Duncan Gir Dies After Truck Crash

A crash on River Road, near Chemainus, at 1 a.m. today took the life of a 19year-old dental reception-

Blonde, pretty Johanna Kozyn of Duncan was injured when the pickup truck in which she was riding with three other young people careened off the coad and struck a power pole.

She died in Chemainus General Rispital shortly after.
Driver of the truck was Michael O'Shea, 19, of Chemainus, who escaped unhurt. Other passengers were Gloria Smith of Stratfords Crossing, near Duncan, and Anton Lind, Chemainus, who suffered minor injuries and were taken to the Chemainus hospital for treatment. They were going home from a dance in Che-mainus when the accident occurred.

River Road is a secondary artery between Chemainus and the Trans-Canada High-way. It also extends a short distance westward from the highway toward Chemainus

STABBING ATTEMPT LINKED TO MURDER

VANCOUVER (CP)-Police are investigating reports of a stabbing attempt on a woman friend of murder victim Mrs. Juanita Renhardt.

Mrs. Lenore Chan, 26, who said she knew the murd-ered women, told police she was entering her home Fri-day when a man grabbed her and slashed her sweater with a long-blade, spring-knife.
Police said her attacker's description was similar in some details to those of the man who fatally stabbed Mrs. Reinhardt, 19, early Wednesday.

PUBLIC HYPNOTISM

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Society of Clinical Hypnotism has asked the provincial government to ban public hypnotism in British Columbia, officials said

The society, whose members are medical doctors, wants legislation outlawing exhibitions of hypnotism for interdal actions of hypnotism in the society president Dr. James D. Fletcher said the society feels public hypnotism can be "a potentially dangerous thing." Letters requesting the ban have been sent to Attorney-General Bonner and provincial Health Minister Martin.

Mr. Martin has already replied to the letter asking more details so a further study of the request can be made.

The Sad Merry-Go-Round

WHEN THE CANADIAN dollar was recently devalued for the second time in a year some careless observers reported that this must raise the cost of imports the United States. So it must, so it has, but that is only part of the process. The cost of imports from all foreign countries has been raised. And now we begin to see that the price of Canadian-made goods and materials is being raised, too. All of which is inevitable.

The business editor of a distinguished Conservative newspaper notes that the prices of on, danber, copper and nickel produced in Canada have all advanced proportionately to the change in the dollar

Certainly the cost of producing these things was not affected by devaluation apart, perhaps, from some higher prices for imported machinery and other supplies. But Canadian industries have raised their prices just the same. They were able to do so because foreign competition was instantly reduced when the Canadian dollar fell and thus erected a new invisible tariff. In British Columbia these effects are particularly noticeable. According to the same Conservative authority, the price of lumber made here has advanced by about 10 per cent in the last few weeks and is up more than 20 per cent from a year ago when the Canadian midal blossoms. dollar was at a premium. That particular increase affects all business and home building. An increase of about 25 per cent in the price of pointed leaflets. This shrub sends up fruits and vegetables affects all households.

Devaluation is calculated to improve Canada's competitive position in the world market but no Canadian can escape its effects at nome. A dollar which has lost 13.5 cents in value since the present government took office must finally buy fewer goods than it used

Such is the inevitable consequence of the nation's mismanagement, by government and by individuals, in that period. The full consequences of devaluation take consequences of devaluation take some time to express themselves in retail prices. Fortunately for the government, they will not be visible to the naked eye before the election of June 18 but in due course to the naked eye before the elec-tion of June 18 but in due course the Canadian people must pay the full price of inflating the currencyan inevitable step; perhaps, given our disordered national situation, but an expensive one as we shall see not long hence.

I soon learned that important as the commercial issues are, the critical issue within the alliance comes from a rebellion against the American monopoly of nuclear power.

There are, as I shall be writing later, exceedingly difficult economic issues between Great Britain and the Europ. ean community. But in the eyes of Gen. de Gaulle, who leads the rebellion, unacceptable fact about Britain is its "special relation" with the United States.

Not only would Britain have an es pecially strong position, but it would have knowledge which prevented it from speaking freely within the community. There would be questions which could not be discussed fully and frankly in the community because Britain

He should not have too much difficulty in doing this inasmuch as the British are very much divided among themselves about whether they want to "join" Europe.

I did my best to understand exact-the nature of the French rebellion against our nuclear monopoly. I do not doubt that pride, prestige, status, and all that sort of thing are involved in it. But they do not fully explain it. What I am about to report is my own personal conclusion, although it is based Quite generally, the Europeans be lieve that the East-West politica stalemate which results from the nu-clear deadlock is not soon going to be broken, and that therefore while broken, and that therefore while there will be no nuclear war, and no small conventional wars about Berlin and Germany, nothing constructive and large can be negotiated either.

Thus, for example, Gen. de Gaulle and Dr. Adenauer take a "harder" line about Berlin than we do. This is not because they are more ready than we are to go to war about Berlin. It is because they look on war, given the nuclear stalemate, as inconceivable. We do not regard it as inconceivable. Thus we mobilized when Berlin was divided by the wall. It is not easy to find out what public policy is on gambling. The Criminal Code has a lot to say on the subject, but about the only thing it says with any certainty is that the game of 3 card monte is absolutely taboo. Take my advice, and refrain from 3 card monte. Its illegality is beyond question.

Three card Monte addicts must be very miffed to watch their speculating friends getting away with it on the stock exchanges. It must be painful for them to attend horse races, and watch the crowds at the parimutuel windows. They must wonder why agricultural shows can run gambling, but not casinos.

There is a thriving underground of three card monte players, but their operations are highly secret. Occasionally you will find one guessing the number of beans in a pot, for want of anything better to do, but generally players keep well out of sight.

Incidentally, if beans in a pot can get away with it, why cannot money in a barrel? The only thing we can take for granted is the commonsense of the police. If it wasn't for that, we would all be in jail, where (it is suggested) poker may legitimately be

OTTAWA-The CBC's scheduling of free time for political telecasts was done with the thought—nay, the hope—that the CBC could present a Diefenbaker-Pearson debate.

That is why the TV time is in half-hour nks. That size air time lends itself nicely to two 10-minute speeches and two fou minute rebuttals, with a couple of minutes in which to choke off more voluble speakers. Prime Minister Diefenbaker's refusal to play Nixon to Pearson's Kennedy was not unexpected. He told President Kennedy a ago that if he had been in Vice-Presiyear ago that if he had been a would have rejected the debate invitation. Nixon had more to lose than to gain in the encounter, and the PM feels the same way about a debate with Another valid reason is that Diefenbaker hand of hearing. He compensates for this in the Commons by using an earphone. But he would not care to parade his disability on TV by using a hearing aid, and without it he would be at a distinct disadvantage.

Presumably knowing all this, the CBC went ahead with its scheduling to accommodate debates. Maybe it counted on the modate debates. Maybe it counted on the PM's ego, expecting he couldn't resist a Grey Cup size audience. Maybe it was betting that the PM would risk a debate rather than appear chicken.

But whatever its reasoning, the CBC faced the PM with a situation not to his liking and strengthening the conviction of a good many Tory MPs of the last Parliament that the CBC is biased against their party and government.

The climax of the situation arrived Mor day night, when the CBC had a half-hour of television time set aside for the leaders of the Conservative and Liberals parties. But although the PM had declined to debate with Pearson, the CBC arrangement pro-duced the next thing to a debate: 15 minutes of the PM on election issues, and 15 minutes of Liberal Party film starring Pearson on election issues. All that was missing was the physical confrontation and the rebuttal.

The quarter-hour of "my fellow Canadians," slightly off-eyed due to Diefenbaker's reliance on a teleprompter, was not the PM's best. And in the Liberals' 15 minutes Pearson neatly upstaged the PM, in much the same way that Diefenbaker often upstages

Pearson in the Commons.

The Liberals took full advantage of the recent relaxation of regulations covering political broadcasting — as New Democrat candidates David Lewis and Walter Pitman also did in the half hour they shared on the private network with Social Credit Leader

The Liberal presentation was bright and lively, with a mixture of Pearson travelling, whistle stopping and hustlings speaking, closed off with a close up of the Liberal leader looking and speaking directly into the camera and the nation's living rooms behind it.

The Tories tried nothing new Diefenbaker's technique is the old fireside chat technique pioneered by Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the 1930's, but used, I think, less effectively. The PM does not have FDR's personality.

Consolation for the Conservatives, if it can be called such, is that those voters who switched channels on the PM also missed Pearson. But the lesson should not be lost on the Tory campaign planners: for the next TV encounter they need a better technique

A WRITER'S DIARY

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

Have you ever thought of writing a family history? Not, of course, a book for public sale, or even to appear in printed form, but a hand-written or typed history of your tribe, containing all the information about them you can collect.

A century ago the family Bible served also as a history, in which the dates of births, deaths and marriages were kept. But how many families have such a thing now? Unquestionably they are the poorer because of their failure to preserve the annals of their group.

These thoughts come to me as a result of reading a remarkable book about a remarkable family; it is called is a great partisan) since the "A Pride of Terrys" and its author is Marguerite Steen.

One might not expect a novel about a girl's adventures in an English home and an Oxford college to be of any particular local interest. This book has such an interest, for two reasons: the author once lived in Victoria, and her heroine, Ann Livingstone, is described as Frank Bass has captured the English home but herought un through most of her worth English-born, but brought up through most of her youth in British Columbia.

Young candidates like these with Hon. L. B. Pearson form part of the new kind of leadership Canada wants to take a stand for government with purpose

VOTE THE PEARSON TEAM A NEW KIND OF LEADERSHIP...THE KIND OF GOVERNMENT WE NEED

LET'S BE BUSINESS-LIKE

On June 18 we ask the people of Canada to choose between feeble government and the ability of the Liberal team to get things done.

We cannot afford a cabinet that is too divided to make vital decisions.

We can no longer afford reckless mismanagement of Canada's finances.

We cannot afford the slow-down of our economy and the lack of confidence in government policies.

We cannot afford to see our dollar devalued any farther, and the cost of living rise.

On June 18th you can take a stand for government with purpose-government that will lead Canadian enterprise and skill to create an expanding economy in a united Canada. That is what a new Liberal government will do.

WE NEED A MILLION NEW JOBS

415,000 Canadians, on average, have been out of work every day since July 1957.

We are making less-real income per Canadian is smaller-than six years ago.

This waste and suffering of people did not have to happen. It must not be allowed to continue.

The right government policies can get things moving and keep them moving.

The Liberal party is pledged to full employment. Its policies are built for an expanding economy.

An expanding economy will create the million new jobs our growing population needs for the next four years.

You can take a stand for better jobs and greater opportunities in Canada...vote for your Liberal candidate on June 18.

LOOKS AT SPORTS

It's probably not true at all. But an observer at last Sunday's Victoria International Hill Climb on the slopes of Mount Douglas offered a unique answer when he was asked why sports cars are built so low to the ground.

"Easy to explain," he sniffed. "The guys who Easy to explain, he shifted. The guys who buy them have so many bucks in their jeans they couldn't possibly climb into anything higher.

Foster hadn't given a thought to entering his beast in the climb, but Dave Cooper, a member of the clan, had.

"Give it a whirl," Cooper had said, earlier in the week.

"You drive it and I'll watch," said Foster.

When Cooper didn't show, Foster climbed behind the wheel and made haste. He didn't make too much haste from the starting blocks since, with high gear only, he had to be pushed.

After that he huffed and heaved and held on. On his second run he was clocked in 56.72 seconds. When all the blue-blooded aristocrats of motordom completed their runs, body had done it faster. The next time was 57.50 recorded

It should be said in defence of the sports cars that hill-nbing is not wholly their piece of cake. They cut corners like a thief, but ask them to go straight up and their pistons go "plunk" instead of "ping."

Billy Bitten By Racing Bug at 12

He has been racing competitively for eight years or since he was 16. "First car I ever drove—anywhere," he since he was 16. First car I ever drove—anywhere, he said, "was at the old Colwood track. My dad was president on the racing car association and I used to tag along. One day Digger Caldwell did a couple of turns, stopped beside me and said, Take It around.' I was only 12 but I did. Ever since I have had the bug."

Did he ever worry about becoming an ex-racing driver

a la Stirling Moss?
"Not too much. They're driving faster now where they used to do 70 on the straightaway at Western they're doing 100—but it's safer. The drivers are more skilfull and know with all that speed they have to be careful in "All I've ever had is a broken little finger. "But lots of cars I've driven have been hurt-permanently.

Just then Beverly Foster came in to the garage.
"I saw you driving up the street a few minutes ago," Billy said. Then with a straight face . . : "you must have been doing 70." Without a trace of a grin, she replied: "That car never goes slower than when I drive it."

The sports car types no doubt would have sided with her. They know Billy Foster doesn't drag his feet when he gets a steering wheel in his hands.

Snell of New Zealand put on an amazing burst of speed in the stretch and set a new United States record of 3:56.1 in beating D v r o I Burleson Ores will be stretch and set of the Snell Burieson, who had held the U.S. record of 3:57.6, was timed in 3:57.9 and finished ahead of Jim Grelle of Los Angeles, who also was below the four-minute mark of 3:58.9. Snell, 23, drew a roar or applause from an estimated 40,-000 in Memorial Coliseum. Moments before, two muscu lar weightmen broke world rec-ords—Al Oerter of New York University with a discus throw of 200 feet, 5½ inches, and Dallas Long of Southern California with a shot put toss of 65 feet Snell's astounding last kick that captured the fancy of the Rocks at Home Snell, who has a time of 3:54.4 pending for world recognition, ran the final 220 yards in approximately 24.5. His lap times were 59.0, 62.8, 60.3 and 54.0.

The pickerelweed is a perennial plant found in muddy streams of North America. From its creeping rootstock, stout stems grow one to three feet high, forming extensive beds. Seeds of the pickerelweed are eaten by wild ducks. Fishermen are often seen anchored nearby.

OMPER ROOM

Proves TV Conundrum (ids' Show

By Dick KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — One of the most intriguing tele vision shows is Romper Room, a children's program which deles classification. It is on live in 33 cities every day, yet it is a syndicated show. The explanation is that the Baltimore headquarters every week serids 93 packages of material to each of the 33 cities. Every city does the same thing at the same time, only with a different Romper Room teacher and, of course, different children.

The long narrow border is the most difficult area to fur-nish with a mass of color and differences of height. It is here that we so often see quantities of plants of high garden value spread out in such a way that their value is lost. SET IN GROUPS

The most common mistake in a border of this kind is the setting of the plants singly in-stead of in groups of one kind and color. Snapdragons, for instance, set one plant every foot to look like telephone poles along a street.

Better garden value is obtained when the plants are set in groups, at regular or irreg, ular intervals, so that they form a color mass that impresses itself on the eye. Small groups of edging plants often give a more pleasing effect than a straight line from end to end of the border.

A mistake commonly made A mistace commonly made by beginners and experienced gardeners is the placing of edging plants too close to the edge of the bed or border so that they spread over the ad-joining lawn or path.

The lawn has to be cut right to the edge if it is to look well kept and tidy and this means trimming six inches into the lobelias by midsummer. Respect for the lobelias results in lawn grass growing through their foliage in an unsightly

Along a path, the lobelia flowes over the edge and is scorched by summer heat or trodden underfoot, so that the plants cannot give the full garden value of which they are capable.

A mistake we all make at one time or another is that of being too kind and generous to certain annuals by provid-ing a soil rich in plant food. This results in the production of quantities of luscious green foliage and a paucity of flow-ers, reducing their value as flowering plants.

Petunias, balsam, sweet alyssum, mirabilis, godetia, nas-turtium, portulaca and geraniums are some of the bedding plants which flower best in an ordinary garden soil to which fertilizer has not been added.

By midsummer, if they have flowered well, they may begin to look a little tired and need a side dressing of fertilizer to renew their vigor, and geraniums can take a little feeding as soon as the first flush of

for the young man or woman in-accepted in a rewarding career of service, the 'profession of Chiro-ractic offers outstanding oppor-unities. Present-day 'high pre-are living' lays the foundation for structural distortions, especially of the spinal column, resulting in sonditions of dis-esse. Year by pear the need for practitioners in the heating art that specializes in the correction of these conditions is increased.

Chiropractic has earned recognition from the general public, govern-ment agencies, Workmen's Compen-sation Boards, insurance com-panies, industry, unions, athletic easms, and many other organiza-ions based upon its record of ser-vice to suffering mankind.

There are many avenues yet to be explored that provide opportunities for young people of keen intellect who are looking for the challenge of pioneering in a relatively young profession. Chiropractic has made tremendous strides since its discovery in 1895, but there are still many fields of conquest to provide scope for the researcher, teacher, writer, or the practitioner.

It cannot be denied, however, that among those 400 there is a hard core of dedicated young people who have a definite aim and scholarship program in Canada. The problem is how to select those who know where they're going from such a large group. The Canadian Embassy in Tokyo, working in close collaboration with the Japanese ministry of education, makes its initial cut in the ummanageable number by approximate of further with a selection committee with about 35 students who have a "straight A" record and for the whole of their university course.

This year the procedure left the selection committee with about 35 students whose scholastic record seemed to indicate a high measure of sincerity to wards further study.

The next important qualification is ability to speak, write and understand English thoroughly and Embassy Cultural Attache George Cowley devised an interesting written test for this purpose. To westerners the Japanese language itself seems illogical and wague.

Even some Japanese will ad mit that it is purposely so. In any case, since language is the fool for thought, there is often an apparent lack of logic in Japanese thinking and for this reason Mr. Cowley's test also included some simple problems in logic so as to find out which of the applicants who had reached the interview stage wanted to the interview stage

GALLERY GIFT

The Art Gallery of Greater Victoria Friday received The Art Gallery of Greater victoria Friday received from the renowned Seattle artist, Mark Tobey, the gift of one of his major paintings. The tempera painting, which the artist created recently in Switzerland, has yet to be given a title.

Mark Tobey, the most famous living American artist, was awarded the Grand International Prize for art at the 1957 Biennial Exhibition in Venice, Italy, the first time this award had been given to an American painter since Whistler won it in 1897.

honor of a large one-man exhibition in one of the galleries of the Louvres in Paris, the first time the honor has been accorded by the French to a foreigner. Mr. Tobey has for long had a special affection for Victoria as a city and for its Art Gallery. As early as 1927 he was visiting the city, and is well known here as having given lessages to Freiling. Last autumn Mr. Tobey was accorded the signal and is well known here as having given lessons to Emily

Carr.

1 1957 an exhibition of his work was held at the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, at which time the gallery acquired one of his landscapes. He has made several gifts of art to the gallery in the past, including a water color by Lyonel Feininger, one of the leading 20th century painters, which is among the gallery's most prized possessions.

Mr. Tobey is the only artist being accorded a one-man exhibition at Seattle's World Fair. This brings to 143 the number of works of art which have been given to the gallery

Miss Victoria, 1957, was Sue Pearson, daughter of Saanich police chief, and Mrs. W. Pearson. Now Mrs. John Patrick, the former queen lives in Honolulu where her husband, PO Patrick, is stationed with the United States Navy. They have two little daughters, Lesa, two, and Lesli, who will be one year old in June.

Mary Gibson, Miss Victoria, 1958, is now married to Doug Wilson, who has been prominent in Little League work and sports promotions in Victoria for some years. Mrs. Wilson is a cashier-bookkeeper with a finance company here.—(Photo by Bill Halkett.)

One of the charming stewardesses with the Trans-Canada Airlines is Miss Vivi Petersen, Miss Victoria for 1959 and runner-up in the Miss Canada contest the same year. Based in Vancouver, Miss Petersen files as far east as Toronto and Montreal. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Petersen, 1739 Adanac Street.

When you travel as the representative of this city, try to remember what that means. Remember that you are a typical Victorian, charming, gracious, natural, friendly, and always with a smile.

First and most important thing, I have left until the last, Don't change! You were chosen because you are YOU—not what you may become.

If you treasure your family and friends and you want your city to be as proud of you as you are of it, stay the same—always.

Good luck, Miss Victoria! Have a wonderful year! Love your city as I do and you'll enjoy every precious moment.

Mrs. J. T. Thompson, the former Miss Doreen Wells, was Victoria's Queen in 1955. Now a widow with two children, Margo, five, and David, two, Mrs. Thompson is secretary to the island division manager of the B.C. Telephone Company.—(Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Eleanor Anderson, Miss Victoria, 1953, is now the wife of T. L. Moilliet, 645 Lavolie Drive, a Victoria building consultant. She calls herself a housewife but she keeps an interest in the world of business through part-time work as a copy writer for CJVI radio station.—(Photo by Bill Halkett.)

Life never lacks excitement for the former Miss Gayle Webster, Miss Victoria for 1952. Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Webster of Forrester Street, the former queen is now Mrs. Doug Anderson, wife of the well-known hockey player. The Andersons and their three children, David, eight; Debra, seven, and one-year-old Sharon, are now visiting with Dr. and Mrs. Webster. Mr. Anderson hopes to join the training camp of the Portland Buckaroos when they begin here next September.

A delicate puff of smoke swirls and curls before your eyes, tickling your nose with its delicious aroma as it wafts gently upward. As you gaze into and far beyond the intriguing shapes conjured up by the drifting patterns, your powers of concentration are intensified.

To increase the volumes of cool, perfumed smoke, you smolder the tobacco slowly in your pipe, keeping your "drafts" shut off by exhaling more than inhaling, following the same principle that keeps a wood stove burning slowly.

Penny hasn't yet taken up the art of pipe smoking, but after receiving a sales talk like this, I am sorely tempted.

According to the tobacconist I was speaking to, I would have company if the habit did appeal to me. The ladies who buy his light-weight pipes don't always confess that they will be using them, but he has his suspicions.

Pipes which sell at $3.50, $3.95 and up, will hold $\frac{3}{2}$ of an ounce of tobacco, about half the load of a normal pipe.

There are no fancy trimmings on these pipes—they are just like hubby's, only much smaller and more delicate-look. Ing, "very genteel" was the description given by my connois seur.

The decorated pipes which came out about three years casual, easy as pie to care for, ago did not sell well. Perhaps the women were just shy of patent is the answer. them. If this is the case, aspirants to the women's pipe smoking league which Penny may institute shortly will be glad to know that there is one tobacconist who also gives lessons Pipe smoking is economical for avid smokers who dispose of 30 cigarettes a day at a cost of about 50 cents. Fifty cents worth of pipe tobacco should last you almost a week!

If you are planning to buy a home now or in the near future fread the big selection advertised daily the classification 150.	News of a scholarship award has been received by young baritone David Mar, a former resident of Victoria who is at present visiting in the city as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arnold, Howe Street. Mr. Mar, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Mar, made his singing debut in a Victoria Music Festival folk song class a few years ago and amazed adjudicators, not only with the excellence of his voice but also by singing an English felk song after only a very brief period in this country. At that time a student of Roberto Wood, David Mar subsequently moved with his parents to Ottawa. News of the $200 Ottawa Music Club scholarship award was received this week. It has come as a result of a generally high standard achieved at the Ottawa Music Festival where Mr. Mar won the lieder and concert group classes and came second in operatic and oratorio. He has just completed his final year at Carlton University, majoring in psychology.

News of a scholarship award has been received by young baritone David Mar, a former resident of Victoria who is at present visiting in the city as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arnold, Howe Street. Mr. Mar, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Mar, made his singing debut in a Victoria Music Festival folk song class a few years ago and amazed adjudicators, not only with the excellence of his voice but also by singing an English folk song after only a very brief period in this country. At that time a student of Roberto Wood, Devid Mar subsequently moved with his parents to Ottawa. News of the $200 Ottawa Music Club scholarship award was received this week. It has come as a result of a generally high standard achieved at the Ottawa Music Festival where Mr. Mar won the lieder and concert group classes and came second in operatic and oratorio. He has just completed his final year at Carlton University, majoring in psychology. Results are not out yet but if he gets his degree he plans to devote the next few years to serious study of music. News of a scholarship award has been received by young baritone David Mar, a former resident of Victoria who is at present visiting in the city as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arnold, Howe Street. Mr. Mar, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Mar, made his singing debut in a Victoria Music Festival folk song class a few years ago and amazed adjudicators, not only with the excellence of his voice but also by singing an English folk song after only a very brief period in this country. At that time a student of Roberto Wood, David Mar subsequently moved with his parents to Ottawa. News of the $200 Ottawa Music Club scholarship award was received this week. It has come as a result of a generally high standard achieved at the Ottawa Music Festival where Mr. Mar won the lieder and concert group classes and came second in operatic and oratorio. He has just completed his final year at Carlton University, majoring in psychology, Results are not out yet but if he gets his degree he plans to devote the next few years to serious study of music. Mr. Mar hopes to stay either in Victoria or Vancouver this summer and expects his parents to come out for a holiday in August. Retired Oil Man, L. A. News of a scholarship award has been received by young baritone David Mar, a former resident of Victoria who is at present visiting in the city as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arnold, Howe Street. Mr. Mar, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Mar, made his singing debut in a Victoria Music Festival folk song class a few years ago and amazed adjudicators, not only with the excellence of his voice but also by singing an English folk song after only a very brief period in this country. At that time a student of Roberto Wood, David Mar subsequently moved with his parents to Ottawa. News of the $200 Ottawa Music Club scholarship award was received this week. It has come as a result of a generally high standard achieved at the Ottawa Music Festival where Mr. Mar won the lieder and concert group classes and came second in operatic and oratorio. He has just completed his final year at Carlton University, majoring in psychology. Results are not out yet but if he gets his degree he plans to devote the next few years to serious study of music. NDP Still Power CUBA WOMEN In Saskatchewan CONCESSIONS Despite Setback Political reporters with newspapers in the F-P Publications, of which the Victoria Dally Times is a member, have written a series of articles on aspects of the federal election on June 18.

Today's article assesses the potential power of the NDP in its leader's home province of Saskatchewan in the light of Hazen Argue's desertion to the Liberal Party.

Defection Saps Oratorical Power

In this reference, though, it must be remembered that the NDP's power ful oratorical front has been punctured by the departure of Hazen Argue to the Liberal side as their candidate in Assiniboia.

This, though, is a battle of deeds as well as words. Mr. Douglas' last important act as Saskatchewan's premier was the passing of the medical care act at the special session of the legislature last fall. It was accompanied, however, by legislation hoisting the nealth and education tax levy from times to five per cent.

Part of that tax is ear marked to pay for the Medicare Act, estimated to cost about $21 million in its first operating year.

As for Social Credit, there is little evidence that it will be more than a token factor, Marhave been paying this tax tin Kelln, the Duval farmer.

Opponent Seen But Seldom Heard

Saskatchewan residents more than a token factor. Mar-have been paying this tax tin Kelln, the Duval farmer, since New Year's Day, and the and Saskatchewan leader, has act, scheduled for launching accepted a federal nomination

ICE CREAM CONE TRICK UNSNARLS TRAFFIC JAM

TORONTO (CP)-Police found a hot car on busy Bloor Street Friday and cooled it off with an ice cream

The car belonged to Donald Noble, magistrate's court clerk, and it was stalled in 90-degree heat in rush-hour

A policeman told Mr. Noble to buy a cone cream, which he smeared on the fuel pump. The sudden chill broke the vapor lock in the pump-and the traffic jam.

20 Industrials .. 116.34, off .17

EDMONTON (CP) — Peace River Mining and Smelting Ltd. and Japanese steel officcials are holding talks that could result in construction of a $125,000,000 iron ore smelter in Alberta's Peace River region, a company spokesman said this week. The spokesman said G. R. Heffernan, president of Peace River, is in Japan seeking contracts for sale of concentrated iron ore from the Hines Creek area of the Peace River country, about 275 miles northw of Edmonton.

If firm contracts can be obtained, Peace River Mining and Smelting would build a $125, 1 000.000 smelter in the area to produce iron briquettes.

was awarded the Grand International Prize for art at the 1957 Biennial Exhibition in Venice, Italy, the first time this award had been given to an American painter since Whistier won it in 1897.

Last autumn Mr. Tobey was accorded the signal honor of a large one-man exhibition in one of the galleries of the Louvres in Paris, the first time the honor has been accorded by the French to a foreigner. Mr. Tobey has for long had a special affection for Victoria as a city and for its Art Gallery. As early as 1927 he was visiting the city, and is well known here as having given lessons to Emily

Carr.

In 1957 an exhibition of his work was held at the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, at which time the gallery acquired one of his landscapes. He has made several gifts of art to the gallery in the past, including a water color by Lyonel Feininger, one of the leading 20th century painters, which is among the gallery's most prized pos-

Mr. Tobey is the only artist being accorded a one-man exhibition at Seattle's World Fair.

This brings to 143 the number of works of art which have been given to the gallery.

WITHDRAW DECISION

After a down-to-earth report by Mr. Gregory, the directors voted to withdraw a previous notion to disband the Chest. Said Mr. Gregory:

"For the first time in the history of the Community Chest of Greater Victoria—and as far as I know of any Community Chest anywhere in North America—we have not only an outstanding campaign chairman for this year, but firm commitments from outstanding citizens for the three ucceeding years.'

In 1963 the drive will be directed by John A. Wallace and J. Alan Baker, QC; in 1964 by Hugh Stephen and Donald J. Lawson, and in 1965 by Herschel A. Smith.

At Friday's meeting, Chest directors pledged 100 per cent support to Justin Harbord, who volunteered as campaign chairman for the third time.

BALTIMORE — In a driving finish Greek Money of the Brandywine Stable, a rank outsider, today captured the 86th running of the historic Preakness by a nose over Ridan. Roman Line finished third. Time was 1.56 1/5. Foul claim by Ridan's jockey, Manuel Yeaza, was disallowed. Greek Money, ridden by Johnny Rotz, came on in the last few yards to beat Ridan, which had regained the lead after going wide on the turn into the stretch. The winner paid $23.80, $9.40 and $6.00. Ridan paid $5.00 and $3.20. Roman Line paid $5.80.

flowing hair. Tradition says that Godiva, an 11th-century beauty, wore nothing but her long locks. She did it to persuade her husband Leofric, Earl of Mer-cia and Lord of Coventry, to spare the people of the city from oppressive taxation.

The city council's leaflet said that Leofric, instead of daring his wife to ride in the nude, may have challenged her merely to appear in pub-lic without her jewels and finery.

"It is unlikely that Leofric, "It is unlikely that Leofric," being a man of great piety and benevolence, would allow his wife to ride naked," the leaflet said.
